NTN CALLING ALL ACTORS TO AUDITIONS FOR “BANG BANG” STAGE PRODUCTION

The National Theatre of Namibia (NTN) is thrilled to announce auditions for its upcoming stage production of Bang Bang, a play by Chris Djuma with stage direction by Veronique Kuchekana-Chirau, featuring as a prescribed textbook by Ministry of Education, Innovation, Youth, Sports, Arts and Culture for Grade 8 English Second Language learners in Namibia.

This exciting production is part of the NTN’s Main Programme, which brings educational texts to life on stage, making learning interactive audiences. The play, Bang Bang is a short, hard-hitting play set in a neighbourhood marked by poverty, crime, and political violence. The story centres on children who play games involving toy guns, mimicking the violent world they see around them. What begins as innocent play gradually reveals how violence has been normalised in their daily lives.

The play is minimal in structure but heavy in implication, using children’s voices to expose the psychological and social damage caused by a violent society.
